A Discovery by Accident. which supplies a want men of eminent abili'y have devoted years of s udy and experiment to ind—a specific for diseases of the Kidneys, Bladdr, Urinary Organs and Nervous System—and from the time of its discovery has rapidly increased in favor, gaining the approval and confidence of medical men and those who have used it: it has become a favorite with all classes and wherever introduced has superseded all other treatments. In short, such is its intrinsic merit and superiorty, that it is now the only recognized reliable second.

Diseases of the Kidneys re the most prevalement, dangerous and fatal affections that afflict mankind, and so varied and insidious in their character, that persons often suffer for a long time before knowing what alls them. The most characteristic symptoms are gradual wasting away of the whole body; p in in the back, side or loi s; a weak, feeble, exhausted ceiling; lo s of appetite and dread of exercise; canty and painful discharge of ariously colored arine; minute shreds or casts in the urine; and, irine; minute shreds or casts in the urine; and, when the disease is of long duration, there is auch emaciation and general nervous prostra

The only Cure.

We say positively, and without fear of contra-liction, that Day's Kidney Pad is the first and only infallible cure for every form of Kidney lisease. It is the best remedy yet discovered for this complaint, and more effectu lin its operation than any other treatment. By using faithfully and persistently no case will be found so invererate as not to yield to its powerful remedial virtues.

BROCADE AND PLUSH.

The Gorgeous Costumes of the Period for Evening and Out-door Wear.

London Truth. The novelties for dinner and evening costumes are chiefly of the very richest description, so far as silk but as yet there is no really decided change in the style of making up. Plain, striped and figured plush, brocaded silks and satins, demask, lampas in large Louis XIV. designs, gold and silver, patterns, plain and are very fashionable; the mixtures of these handsome materials with satin and plain silk will be in great vogue for next winter. Plush is already very much employed as trimming for Some of the most elegant tissues for evening are light-colored ground with dark flower patterns, and many of the new out-of-door costumes, as well as hats and jackets, are trimmed with plain or tiger plush in dark

Short, round skirted dresses are generally chosen for dancing and for out-door costumes, but the half-train in the Princesse or polonaise style, and also long trains, are considered How its Measurement Secured a Vermore fashionable for visiting and for evening fall dress. For evening parties the Indian muslin, gauze with satin stripes, or figured over a faille or satin slip, are still great favorites. ROBBED IN THE DARK.

Passengers in a Sleeping Coach Robbed of $7,000 in Money and Valuables.

The train from the south over the Saltimore & Potomac railroad on Thursday night was made up of four just 21 inches wide at the broadest or five Pullman sleeping-cars, all of part and not over 8 inches in length them full of passengers. It left Richmond on time, and the journery from Washington was performed after dark. OLEOMARGARINE CONSUMERS.

Philadelphia's Artificial Butter Finds a Market. Philadelphia Record.

Fully 100,000 pounds of olemargarine are weekly produced at the works on the grounds of the West Philadelphia Abbatoir. This is at the rate in round figures of 5,000,000 pounds a year. Four years ago a yearly output of 1,500,000 pounds was sufficient to meet the demand. Now the call is in excess of the supply. A market could be found for 500,000 pounds a week if a sufficient supply of necessary materials were forthcoming. From 25,000 to 30,000 pounds of beef fat, 1,500 quarts of milk and 1,500 to 2,000 pounds of dairy butter are daily consumed at the works in the manufacture of artificial butter. Two-thirds of the entire amount of olemargarine made at West Philadelphia is sent to Europe. London, Liverpool, and Glasgow, are the principle markets. A few consignments have been sent to Italy, China, and even to Calcutta, India, but the Europeans do not take kindly tissues and trimmings are concerned, to the American article. A good trade is growing up with South America, and large shipments are made to Rio de Janeiro, Para, and Pernambuco. Some of the West India Islands are also customers. In this country the bulk of the supply is figured velvet and satin merveilleaux taken by New Orleans, although shipments are occasionly made to New York and Boston. Only a small percentage of the entire production is put upon the Philadelphia market. The Hollanders are large consumers both day, dinner and evening dresses, of olemargarine, but they do not get and also for jackets and mantles. the manufactured article in a com plete state. Instead, they take the oil before it is churned and do all the finishing process themselves. SPOOL COTTON, 400 BROADWAY.

Since the introduction of this Spool Cotton into the American market, its success has been unprecedented. No other brand of thread has ever met with the same amount of public favor in the same space of time. The "O. N. T." manufacturers were the first to recognize the importance of the Sewing Machine and to make a six-cord cotton, which has ever since been the recognized standard for machines. All the improvements in machinery that the inventive genius of the nineteenth century has produced have been adapted by the manufacturers of "O. N. T." At all the great International Fairs of the world, "O. N. T." has been awarded the

The "O. N. T." factories at Newark, N. J. and Paisley, Scotland, employ 5,200 operatives -make sufficient thread daily to go around the world four times.
